

IASIM 2022

Dear colleague,

The International Association for Spectral Imaging (IASIM) is organizing its biannual event, international conference on spectral imaging, IASIM-2022, which will take place in

Esbjerg, Denmark, 3–6 of July, 2022.

We highly encourage you to participate in the conference and, possibly, also support it financially. The financial support will be first of all used for students scholarships and invitation of key speakers. In this letter you will find all details regarding the different levels of sponsorship and their main advantages. Please, feel free to contact us with any questions and suggestions.

All three sponsorship levels include participation of one representative, and cover all expenses including attending the conference sessions and workshop, conference materials, coffee-breaks and lunches, as well as the conference dinner. Nevertheless, it does not cover the accommodation.

The exhibition hall (demo hall) mentioned in the description is a place where we will place tables and stands for sponsors who want to display and demonstrate their products. The exhibition hall will be located in the same place used for coffee-breaks and posters to increase the attendance. Description of the sponsorship categories with fees and options is available on the next page.

We look forward to seeing you at IASIM-2022!
